- 1. Alain Le Leap, Secretary-General of the Confédération Générale du Travail, is considered to be an intelligent man but lacking in force. His violent quarrels with Benoit Frachon are reportedly no secret in union circles.
- Before the scission took place in the CG?, Le Leap (then Secretary-General of the Union Générale des Fonctionnaires) was completely dominated by Pruja (fnu), his assistant and a well-known militant Communist.
- 3. In connection with his reported attendance at an October meeting of Communist labor leaders in Bucharest (see ______), the following has been established:

25X1A2q

- a. From 30 September to 15 October (the date on which the CGT Congress ended) Le Leap was in France. He acted as co-chairman of the Congress along with Benoit Frachon.
- b. Le Leap's presence in France was noted from 24 October to 4 November. On 24 October he spoke at a commemorative public meeting in Firminy for the miner, Earbier, killed in the recent strikes.

Source considers, however, that it is very doubtful that Le Leap was in Rumania during the interim period 15 to 24 October.

4. Source further pointed out that a secretary of the Union Generale des Fonctionnaires was to depart for Hungary (not Rumania) during the period 20-25 October and that the report concerning Le Leap's presence in Bucharest may have emanated from the fact that Le Leap frequently "makes use" of the personnel of this organisation.
